

Research projects map

Our research projects map includes summaries of ongoing research related to policing and crime reduction.

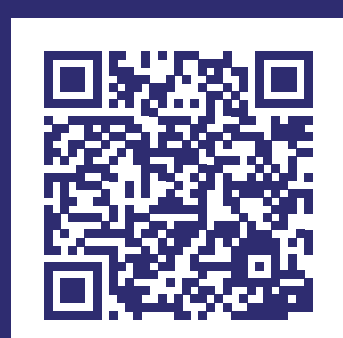

You can review research on youth violence prevention and reduction currently taking place across the UK, as well as summaries of randomised control trials, both ongoing and completed.

You can also share your post-graduate or professional research projects.

Other resources from the College of Policing

Practice bank

Practice bank supports crime reduction and community safety organisations, including policing, to find and share tactics, approaches, problem-solving strategies and interventions to help reduce crime.

Crime reduction toolkit

Access summaries of the best available evidence on what works to reduce crime. You can review more than 65 different crime reduction interventions and approaches, including those targeted at preventing and reducing youth violence.